HEROES AT HOME KAISER'S THEME

Emperor Tells of Anxiety of Men and Women, Old and Young, to Aid Empire.

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—Emperor William today sent the following message to Dr. Bethmann von Hollweg, the imperial chancellor:

"For the second time the anniversary of the day arrives when our enemies forced me to call Germany's sons to arms to protect the honor and existence of the empire.

Seal Loyalty With Blood.

"The German nation has been through two years of unprecedented heroic fighting and suffering. The army and navy in union with our loyal and brave allies have gained the highest glory in attack and defense. Many thousands of our brethren have sealed their loyalty to the fatherland with their blood.

"Our young fleet on that glorious day in the Skagerrak inflicted a heavy blow on the British navy. Deeds of sacrifice and loyal comradeship at the front glow brightly before my eyes.

At Home Heroism Seen.

"At home also we see heroism. Men and women, old and young, all quietly and bravely wearing mourning, and the anxiety of all who organize and help lessen the suffering caused by the war and of all who labor day and night unceasingly to supply our fighting brothers in the trenches and at sea with the necessary armament.

"Our armies hope to outstrip our production of war material will prove as unattainable as was their plan to secure by starvation what their sword could not gain.

"God's blessings on Germany's field has awarded the farmers more bountifully than we dared to hope. South and north, in friendly rivalry, strive to find the best means for an even distribution of the foodstuffs and other necessities."

"Some girl has written her name and address on one of these eggs."

"Ah, a romance."

"No romance about it. You'll have to pay letter postage instead of parcel
